

FREE TIME OPTIONS:

A number of activities are available for schools and cabin groups to utilize during breaks or free times. With a large indoor gymnasium and several outdoor games and hikes, there is always something new to discover throughout the week.

HIKING

The camp has several trails to hike or explore. Pick up a trail map at the camp office, or at a trailhead.

- The Charlotte’s Mountain Trail is a popular as that trail goes through a deep ravine, past old growth stumps, and up to the top of the mountain near the “twin stumps.” A recent logging project allows for excellent views of the Pacific Ocean
- The Wetlands Boardwalk is an easy walk along the edge of Spring Lake. Keep an eye out for salamanders.
- The Bigfoot Trail follows the lower ridge on the north end of our property. Look for “Bigfoot” alongside the trail.

GYMNASIUM/SHELTER

The camp’s large, heated gymnasium—also known as the Shelter—is equipped with a full indoor basketball court and many table games. This space is available for guest use 24/7, and can be utilized by cabin groups throughout the week. Adult supervision is required for children through high school age.

HUMAN FOOSBALL and GAGA BALL

Two recent additions to Twin Rocks facility are the Human Foosball court and Gaga Ball pit, both of which are located just east of the Gymnasium patio.

- Human Foosball can have up to 12 players on the court and functions much like the tabletop version.
- The Gaga Ball pit has a large sand pit, with plenty of space for spectators around the walls of the pit, making it a perfect activity for large groups.

Rules are posted at the site of the games, both activities are easy to organize between cabin groups, or as a P.E. or free time activity.

MINI GOLF

A nine hole mini golf course is also available 24/7 and is a great spot for counselors to take a group of students throughout the day.

EXPLORATION

There are several locations around camp that have developed into natural play and exploration areas, including several large nursery logs. Our oldest log, located between the lake and sand volleyball pits, is a great place for students to explore and climb, with plenty of birds, bugs, and other critters to discover.

Scavenger hunt or bingo sheets can be borrowed from the Outdoor Education office for hikes or wandering around camp during free time. These photo identification charts are a fun way to help students identify native plants and animals found on camp.
